To whom it may concern:

As President of the Thunder Bay Dental Association I was responsible for organizing our main conference for the year- Rendezvous 2005. The event was attended by over 270 people comprising of dentists, hygienists, assistants, lab. technicians and administrative staff. The keynote speaker for the morning session was Gina Mollicone Long.

Gina's presentation: Being Passionate and Fearless, was an overwhelming success. It lasted over two and a half hours and was thoroughly entertaining and enlightening throughout.

I feel Gina's greatest asset is her ability to relate, or more precisely the audience's ability to relate to her. Unlike most motivational speakers, there is not a hint of arrogance about her. Her persona is honest, forthcoming and above all, human. The effectiveness of her presentation is that she is average and exceptional simultaneously which made her experiences and advice particularly inspiring.

For several weeks after the event I had members of our dental community going out of their way to tell me how much they enjoyed her presentation. Most expressed that they really felt Gina "spoke to them" and "lived in their world".

I would strongly recommend Gina Mollicone Long as a speaker, facilitator or coach to any organization or company. If you have any further questions, please feel free to call me.

Sincerely,

Darryl Blazino
