

Women of Influence and Inspiration

At the 8th Women of Influence and Inspiration seminar for the women in the Ontario Public Service, Gina Mollicone Long lead the audience on a journey like no other. An introduction to Gina is an introduction to a woman whose soul captures the essence of the foundation of life itself. She is a one woman powerhouse who has spent years trailblazing new paths for the modern female entrepreneur.

Listening to her story, and experiencing the energy that surrounds her, Gina awakens your thoughts to the benefits and power of positive thinking. Her personal story is motivating, and her passion on delivering her message left the audience captivated. She is a newly published author of “The Secret of Successful Failing” an inspirational book that will keep you on the edge of your seat as you unlock the secrets hidden in the pages.

Gina’s presence is exciting and she does make a difference, with her passion, her presence, her words, she is indeed a Women of Influence and Inspiration.
